Oh my, It's one of those big questions that, if I'm honest, I don't think will ever be answered - both platforms have different strengths and are suited to perhaps different deployment scenarios but both are massively functional, hugely extend-able and quite amazingly they're completely FREE! It's outstanding how the communities of both platforms continue to deliver software at a standard sometimes heads and shoulders above some of the paid-for stuff out there.

Anyways, enough of the gushing.

You can install both Joomla! and Wordpress with one click on our hosting plans, as many times as you like, and test them out for yourself, for whatever scenario you find yourself in.

Joomla! versus Wordpress? - I'll let you decide
